Overview of Programs for Parents

- ❖ These workshops are designed to give parents tools to help build, strengthen, and maintain the important bonds of a successful family. It also aids parents in building the necessary bridges between school and home.

Dream Building for Parents

Dream Building for parents is an interactive conversation based on the book co-authored by LaMarque Ward and L. Kobie Wilkerson. In this conversation the 7 areas of parental influence are outlined and detailed. The goal is to provide parents with more tools to engage their children and to gel families by using each individual's life journey and purpose.

Raising Wise Kids

This presentation leads parents through activities to create healthy habits for kids. It guides them through daily practices that will strengthen children's processing and critical thinking skills. The focus is on conversations to have with kids so they will learn to think ahead and operate with wisdom.
